

My Experience at the ABM

Lisa C.

It was great to see people from all over the world get involved at that level of service to S.L.A.A. I surprised myself, getting more involved than I expected I would. I found myself approaching the microphone during motions and items for discussion more often than I thought I would. I went to 4 committee meetings: Healthy Relationships Committee, the Conference Literature Committee, the Conference Journal Committee and the Conference Steps and Traditions Committee. I offered help in organizing writing for the S.L.A.A. Twelve and Twelve book project and have had the chance to participate in a conference call since the ABM to move forward with that. It's a worthwhile project that I would like to help in any way I can. And, as the managing editor of the Journal, I continue to participate in the conference calls for that committee.

The ABM was an intense four days of back-to-back meetings during the day doing the business of S.L.A.A. But at night they had a bonfire beach meeting one night, an auction to raise money for the fellowship that was hilarious, and a meeting where the 2 delegates from Sweden spoke. (They are a couple and they participate in a choir together so at the end of their shares they sang a song in Swedish.)

I'm grateful for the chance to serve at this level and look forward to another year of S.L.A.A. service!

My Experience at the ABM

Lisa C.

It was great to see people from all over the world get involved at that level of service to S.L.A.A. I surprised myself, getting more involved than I expected I would. I found myself approaching the microphone during motions and items for discussion more often than I thought I would. I went to 4 committee meetings: Healthy Relationships Committee, the Conference Literature Committee, the Conference Journal Committee and the Conference Steps and Traditions Committee. I offered help in organizing writing for the S.L.A.A. Twelve and Twelve book project and have had the chance to participate in a conference call since the ABM to move forward with that. It's a worthwhile project that I would like to help in any way I can. And, as the managing editor of the Journal, I continue to participate in the conference calls for that committee.

The ABM was an intense four days of back-to-back meetings during the day doing the business of S.L.A.A. But at night they had a bonfire beach meeting one night, an auction to raise money for the fellowship that was hilarious, and a meeting where the 2 delegates from Sweden spoke. (They are a couple and they participate in a choir together so at the end of their shares they sang a song in Swedish.)

I'm grateful for the chance to serve at this level and look forward to another year of S.L.A.A. service!